Client Feedback

Aggreko

Nadine did a tremendous job as anchor at our global conference. We were particularly impressed by a couple of things: the quickness she got "up to speed" with the complexities of our business, and how she leveraged her engaging personality to get the best from her interviewees and audience.

Women in Business Awards

Nadine did a great job at the Women in Business Awards. She held the evening together brilliantly, shared some great insights and asked very pertinent questions. We've never known an awards night where the winners have been so eloquent on stage, and believe that was down to her making them feel at ease while at the same time setting just the right tone with her Q&A.

Heathrow Airport

I have hired many conference facilitators in the past, including celebrity newsreaders. Nadine is my preferred choice for conferences; she comes well prepared and is great in engaging with speakers and delegates. Great sense of humour too!

Infosys

Nadine did a great job at the Infosys annual European client event, taking time to get to know the client and its audience, as well as working closely with the executive producer to understand the overall key messages and takeaways. Nadine is very personable, knows how to put people at their ease, an absolute professional, and we are looking forward to working with Nadine again this year.

Global E-Commerce Summit

Nadine as a presenter and chair, did a truly excellent job. Not only was she always very well prepared, informed about the contents addressed during the summit and the backgrounds of the individual guest speakers - she also showed a great sense of humour, spontaneity and collegiality towards the organization. We have received nothing but positive feedback from our delegates, speakers and visitors, who highly appreciated her professionalism and personality.
